

UNIPOL GROUP RETURNS TO CELEBRATE AT THE LABOUR DAY CONCERT

Bologna, 29 April 2022

The Labour Day Concert on 1 May will finally welcome a large public audience back to its home stage in Piazza San Giovanni in Laterano, after two years in different locations due to the pandemic.

The Unipol Group is a traditional sponsor of the event, supporting both its message and the celebration. As every year, the largest free concert in Italy – organised by the CGIL, CISL and UIL trade unions to celebrate workers – will host performances by leading artists from the Italian and international music scene.

The musical marathon, broadcast live by Rai 3 and RaiRadio2 in full, will include performances by Ariete, Bresh, Coez, Carmen Consoli, Fasma, La Rappresentante Di Lista, Mace Ft Venerus, Colapesce, Gemitaiz and Joan Thiele, Tommaso Paradiso, Mara Sattei, Mecna, Rancore, Rovere and Venerus. For the first time, the artists of one of the most famous musicals in the world, Notre Dame de Paris, will give a special performance to celebrate twenty years of extraordinary success. Other major artists will be announced in the coming days, completing the program with over 30 names.

Again this year, the event promises to invite a wide range of musical genres, young musicians and established artists to the stage. Unipol has always supported the organisation of quality events with the aim of translating its values into a concrete sign of development and enrichment for people and the community. In this context, the Labour Day Concert is of great social and cultural importance for the Group and an event worth supporting and promoting.
