

UNIPOL GROUP SUPPORTS THE EXHIBITION “CARLO ALBERTO DALLA CHIESA: THE MAN, THE GENERAL 1982- 2022”

An exhibition for the fortieth anniversary of the General's death is being held in Rome, curated by Andrea Pamparana

Rome, 6 September 2022

The exhibition “Carlo Alberto Dalla Chiesa: the Man, the General 1982-2022” opens today, in the presence of the High Offices of the State and the Carabinieri Police Force, along with senior representatives from some major Italian companies, at the newly-renovated Carabinieri Historical Museum in Piazza Risorgimento, Rome.

The exhibition, curated by the journalist Andrea Pamparana, will later tour the country, stopping in Milan, Turin and Palermo, as well as being available via streaming and online on the main social networking websites. The initiative is aimed at spreading awareness, to citizens and above all to young people in schools, of the extraordinary life of a man - Carlo Alberto dalla Chiesa - who was a “servant of the State”, a Carabiniere police officer who, throughout all his actions, confirmed that the motto of the Carabinieri Police Force “faithful over the centuries” is not just a slogan, but a predisposition of the soul. After battling the mafia for many years and contributing to defeating terrorism in the Years of Lead, a period of social and political turmoil in Italy, tragically bloodying the country, he made the ultimate sacrifice in Palermo on 3 September 1982, while in his new role as Prefect.

Carlo Alberto Dalla Chiesa is a key individual in Italy's history due to the professional and moral values he demonstrated, acting as the bearer of a message of legality to be conveyed to new generations. He would certainly not have called himself a hero but, rather, a person of integrity, attentive to those for whom we feel most responsible, as can be seen from his words: “Some things are not done out of courage; they are done only so that you can look more peacefully into the eyes of your children and your children's children”. Unipol Group has decided to support this initiative created in his memory due to the attention always paid by the Group to spreading knowledge and disseminating the values on which civil society is based.
